

David J. Bradley, Clerk

EXXON MOBIL CORPORATION,
Plaintiff,
v.
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
Defendant.

- (a) the allocation of past and future response costs among the responsible parties under 42 U.S.C. § 9613(f), and related technical or historical issues;
- (b) whether the costs claimed were or are necessary costs of response consistent with the National Contingency Plan (40 C.F.R. Part 300 et. seq.);
- (c) additional cost recoverability issues;
- (d) whether any claims are time-barred in whole or in part under the applicable statute of limitations; and
- (e) whether the United States is entitled to any relief on its counterclaims for contractual indemnification based on Plancor lease agreements.

The scope of written, fact witness and expert witness discovery for Phase 2 is limited to items (b) through (e), except as otherwise noted below. However, nothing in this order precludes the further deposition of any expert serving a supplemental report, regardless of the issues that report addresses.

Any prior stipulation and order or protective order governing Phase 1 discovery conducted applies to any Phase 2 discovery. Any issues that the parties previously agreed or contended should be excluded from Phase 1 and reserved for a subsequent phase of this litigation is within the scope of Phase 2.¹

The following scheduling provisions apply to the remaining work:

| 2b. | May 14, 2018 | The deadline for a response in opposition to any pretrial motion. |

¹ To the extent either party was served interrogatories, requests for documents or requests for admissions during Phase 1, but the party objected on the grounds that the discovery request solely concerned a Phase 2 issue, and did not substantively respond, these prior discovery requests are cancelled. The party serving these requests has the right to re-serve the same requests after discovery for Phase 2 begins.
